Thus far the efforts of the K. N. editors to assault James Buchanan have been ineffectual .-His record has been most critically examined. And what has been the result of this restless inquiry? We find the K. N. journals filled with lengthy comments on a single isolated act of his boyhood. A speech made by James Buchanan in 1815 is made the subject of severest criticism and denunciation. But we call upon you to examine the record of Mr. Buchanan's public life. It will be remembered that Mr. Buchanan took his seat in the Senate in 1834, and occupied it till the close of 1845. In 1836 the question for the Abolition of slavery in the District of Columhia came up for discussion in the Senate of the United States, and Mr. Buchanan, being one of the leaders of the Democratic party, said in reply to a petition which came from the North: What is now asked by these memorialists.

That in this district of ten miles square a district coerced out of two slave-holding States, and surrounded by them on all sides, slavery shall be abolished! What would be the effects of granting their request? You would thus erect a citadel in the very hearts of these States, upon a territory which they have ceded to you for a far different purpose, from which Abolitionists and incendiaries could securely attack the peace and safe-ty of their citizens. You establish a spot within he slaveholding States which would be a city of refuge for run away slaves. You create by law a central point from which trains of gun powder securely laid, extending into the rounding States, which may at any moment produce a fearful and destructive explosion. By passing such a law you introduce the enemy into he very bosom of these two States, and afford him every opportunity to produce a servile in Is there any reasonable man who can for one moment suppose that Virginia and Maryland would have ceded the District of Columbia to the United States, if they had entertained the slightest idea that Congress would ever use it for any such purpose. They ceded it for your use, for your convenience, and not for their own destruction. WHEN SLAVERY CEASES TO EXIST UNDER THE LAWS OF VIRGINIA AND MARYLAND, THEN, AND NOT TILL THEN, OUGHT IT TO BE ABOL SHED IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA." Are these the views of an Abolitionist, as the editor of the Journal and other Know-Nothing papers would have the people of Kentucky be lieve that Mr. Buchanan is? What stronger position could any man take than Mr. Buchanan did in 1835? He said emphatically: "Under guarantied to them, and these rights I am determined to maintain, come weal, come woe.' Strong, bold, fearless, independent language; erable old statesman, who in the Senate of the ism United States defended so nobly the rights of the South, is now to be branded as an Abolitionist by an unscrupulous press. If, in the face of facts, Know-Nothing Journals, or Know-Nothing orators, can prove that James Buchanan is an Abolitionist, they can prove that the sun revolves around the earth-prove that darkness is lightprove everything. If James Buchanan was to be tried before a jury of his countrymen for being a friend to the South, and, in the event of the charge being true, he was to be punished, no set of honest men in the world could render any other than a verdict of guilty. For more than thirty years he has been a consistent and zealous advocate of Southern constitutional rights. He has proven himself to be a power ful champion for liberty and union. He who can read his history, and then direct the cruel shaft of calumny at his glorious record, ought not to be called an American citizen.

In 1836 there was a very exciting debate in the Senate of the United States on the subject tainly, no better man can be found in the District. of circulating incendiary documents through the mails of the United States. "Mr. Buchanan spoke repeatedly in support of the message of Mr. Van Buren, demanding the interference of the National Legislature to prevent the dissemination of appeals among the slaves of the South to rise in servile insurrection against the people of that quarter of the country."

The proofs that Mr. Buchanan is a reliable. onservative, Union-loving man, crowd upon us. They come, and still they come. Hear the old Pensylvanian once more:

"The older I grow, the more I am inclined to be what is called a State-Righis man. The peace and security of this Union depend upon giving to the Constitution a literal and fair construction. The rights of the States, reserved to them by that instrument, ought ever to be held Does such language as the above savor of Abolition. The South asks nothing but their rights of the National Democratic party." under the Constitution; and the sentence just noted comprenends the whole subject of slavery There can be no question but that James Buchanan is true to every section of the Union. H.s record on the slavery question is as consistent as that of any man living or dead. And we can hardly entertain the belief that the voters of Kentucky will come to any other conclusion when they shall have carefully examined his political history. He has been a true and firm friend to the South; and we will not believe that base ingratitude was born upon Southern soil. Hear the same statesman in 1850: "The fugitive slave law is all the the South has optained in this compromise of 1850. It is a law founded both npon the letter and the spirit of the Constitution, and a similar law has existed on our statute books ever since the administration of George Washington, History teaches us that but for the provision in favor of fagitive slaves, our present constitution would never have ex-

we extract the following sentences: * * "I now solemnly declare, as the deliberate conviction of my judgement, that two things are necessary to preserve the Union from the most immediate danger.

1. "Agitation in the North on the subject of Southern slavery must be rebuked and put down by a strong, energetic, and enlightened public 2. "THE FUGITIVE SLAVE LAW MUST BE EXECUTED IN ITS LETTER AND IN ITS

in 1852: at home in defence of the federal constitution and the laws. This was an easy task, because the people of Pennsylvania have ever been as loyal and faithful to the Constitution, the Union, and the rights of Southern States of which it is com-themselves. To have pursed a different course in my rative State would, therefore, have been to resist the strong courses. the strong current of enlightened public

Our only request in behalf of the Democratic party is, that the people of Kentucky will take into that functionary very severely. he time and pains to carefully exaime the political record of Mr. Buchanan. We are in all sincerity perfectly satisfied that the investigation will result in the conviction that our venerable candidate is above, and beyond reproach.

We will conclude this article by presenting again to our readers the celebrated Erie letter of Mr. Fillmore, which has not been denied by the most unblushing advocates of Mr. Fillmore. This letter was written from Buffalo, N. Y., 7th October, 1838. In comparing the political actions of Messrs. Buchanan and Fillmore, we ask the people to remember the dates. But read the letter, and judge as honest men who love the Constitution and the Union.

BUFFALO, Oct. 17, 1838. SIR :- Your communication of the 15th inst., Sir:—Your communication of the 15th inst., as chairman of the committee appointed by the anti-slavery society of the county of Erie, has just come to hand. You solicit my answer to the following interogatories:

1. Do you believe that petitioning Congress on the subject of slavery and the slave trade ought to be received, read, and respectfully considered by the representatives of the people?

sidered by the representatives of the people?

2. Are you oppose to the annexation of Texas to this Union, under any circumstances, so long as saves are held there 3. Are you in favor of Congress exercising all the Constitutional powers it possesses to abolish the internal slave trade between the States?

4 Are you in favor of immediate legislation for the abolition of slavery in the District of I am much engaged, and have no time to enter into argument, or explain at length my reasons for my opinions. I shall, therefore, content myself for the present by answering ALL your inter-rogatories in the AFFIRMATIVE, and leave for ome future occasion a more extended discussion on the subject.

MILLARD FILLMORE.

Ovation to; Maj. Breckinridge. After the Democratic meeting the large crowd repaired to the Galt House to greet Major Breckinridge. Several thousand persons had already assembled in front of the Hotel on Main street in anticipation of the event.

After repeated calls Major Breckinridge appear ed upon the platform in front of the Ladies parlors, and was greeted with tremendous cheers. It would be impossible to report the eloquent thanks which he returned for the flattering demonstration. He then reverted briefly to the political condition and the factions with which it as Central America is concerned. For various s distracted. All he said was uttered with the modesty and delicacy that became his distinguished position. It was the first time the Democracy ever heard this eloquent son of Kentucky, but every word that fell from his lips thrilled through their hearts, and added to the admiration they already felt for him.

After a few remarks from Col. Preston, during which he administered a well merited rebuke to the rowdies, who attempted to interrupt the meeting, the large crowd quietly dispersed.

Democratic Meeting Last Night.

A large meeting of the Democracy took place last night at Democratic Hall, (previous to their call upon Maj Breckinridge,) and were addressed by Mr. Jas. B. Kinkaid and Col. W. Preston. Both speakers elicited the fullest applause of the audience. It was an enthusiastic and cheering rally of the friends of Ruchanan and Breckin. ridge.

WHERE WERE THE POLICE ?-We have been told for the last month that the Know-Nothing police intended to perform their duties. A gang of rowdies hung upon the out-skirts of the meeting last night, and did every thing in their power to cry down Major Breckinridge, while he was replying to the demonstration made by his friends. If they had been Democrats, and had thus interrupted a Know-Nothing meeting, they would have been carried off to jail, and pr to the work-house in the morning.

The difference between Democracy and He spoke like a man whose heart was overflow- Know-Nothingism was strikingly illustrated last ing with love for the Union, the Constitution night. It was the difference been gentlemanly and the people. And yet this gallant and ven- propriety and decorum and blackguard rowdy-

From Garrard County. LANCASTER, KY., July 5th, 1856. MESSES. BULLOCK & NOBLE: In our county and the surrounding counties the Democracy is gaining ground. We will give a larger Democratic vote in Garrard than ever was given at our November election. We have been notified that we will have speeches here from the secret order from this time almost until the August election, by Roger Hanson, George Robertson, &c. They are contending hard for the Whigs of Garrard that have not gone into the order. We were notified that a certain Mr. Rankin, the elector from the 10th district, would make a Know Nothing speech at the Court House at two o'clock! this evening. According to appointment he came fourth, and was introduced to the audience by Wm. Boon Mason, a K N. of no ordinary standing. The audience numbered about two hundred voters at the beginning, and when he ended about one hundred. He spoke three hours. He was slow, and dull, and he labored the Catholic question and the native question with beclouded eyes. He let us know that Mr. Buchanan had in his time given General Jackson the lie, for which Jackson would have caned him if it had not been for the interference of friends. He also let us know that Buchanan had slandered Mr. Clay, and was an abolitionist, and many other things

- [From the Times of the 18th.] R. CRAMPTON NOT A FIT MAN FOR WASHINGTON For ourselves, while exculpating, as Mr. Marcy does in his letter, our own Government from the charge of intending to yielate the United States law, we have all along felt that it was impossible to answer for what the acts of an individual official in a complicated and distant transaction might have been. It appears from Mr. Marcy's despatch that Mr. Crampton has not been wholly faultless. that he certainly seems to have taken an active part in proceedings which were pro-nounced illegal by the United States Courts, and what is still more unfortunate, persisted in coninuing those proceedings even after this decisio

We do not doubt Mr. Crampton's fidelity zeal and activity in the task which was give him, but he appears to have wanted caution and dignity, and not to have been considerate or particular enough in the means and the instru-ments which he employed for his object. We do not doubt in the least Mr. Crampton's faithful devotion to his own Government and good intentions towards the Government to which he was sent. But there is such a thing as a careless and undisciplined fidelity, which tells its master, "Oh, trust me; I know what you want, and I'll do it, and I won't be particular either.' is a fidelity to a master which implies too little self-respect in the servant. Mr. Crampton ap-pears to have wanted self-respect in the kind of rsons with whom he connected himself in these transactions, and the style of proceeding he adopted, and to have managed the affair on free and easy principle, never intending, per-haps really to offend the United States Government or to violate the United States law, but simply thinking that "it didn't signify," that it was of no use sticking at a trifle, and that the United States Government would never make a fuss about such a little matter. But this was a line unfortunately most unsuitable for dealing with a jealous and ticklish people like our friends across the Atlantic, most tender about their dig-nity, and on the lookout for the slightest indica-tion of a difference of behavior towards themselves and European Governments.

Mr. Cramptou was certainly not the man to send as Minister to the United States. But the truth is the United States is not a favorite Emassy, and it is not very easy always to get the man you want for it.

[From the London Dally News, June 17th.]

ARBITRATION-ENGLAND'S USURPATION IN HONDURAS. We have no hesitation in declaring it to be our pinion that a door is here opening for negotiaopinion that a door is here opening for negotia-tions, which, if conducted on both sides with a sincere desire to arrive speedily at an equitable and lasting settlement, might soon put a period to our difficulties with the United States, so far reasons we should prefer direct negociation be-tween England and the United States, to arbitration. Independent nations are rather reluctant to submit to arbitral decisions when judgment is given against them, and pleas are easily devised for evading a reference to arbitration. If Mr. Dallas and Lord Clarendon would meet each other with the same spirit that animated Lord Ashburton and Mr Webster when they met to settle the Northwest Boundary question, the points proposed to be referred to arbitration might satisfactorily be disposed of at one or two

The fact is, that the only one of the questions that admits of a serious discussion is that which relates to the boundary of our British settlement at Belize. The Bay Islands are beyond a doubt part of the republic of Honduras, and the Enlish occupation of them is an act of usurpation. The Mosquitian Protectorate is a farce. The socalled King of Mosquitia is merely the half-savage chief of one of the native tribes, thinly scattered along the coast between the frontiers of Honduras and Costa Rica. By the public law of all the colonizing Powers of Europe and America, he and his people stand in the same relation to the government which can establish a claim to the territory they occupy as the Indians of the Unted States do to the Government at Washington, or the Maori or New Zealand to our own Gov ernment. Great Britain claims no territorial rights in Mosquitia, and one or other of the Spanish republics there has inherited it as suc essor to old Spain.

The equitable settlement in thoss mooted points would be least effected by a declaratory treaty, in which it was agreed: That a joint commission should be appointed to run the boundary line Republic of Honduras; that Great Britain should restore the Bay Islands to the Republic of Honduras; and that the district called Mosquitis should be placed under the sovereignty of the Spanish American Republic that can show the best title to it, the same rights being secured to the Indians inhabiting the territory, under the joint guarantee of England and in the United States that are enjoyed by the aborgines in the United States and New Zealand. The ground would thus be cleared for a mutual understanding between the governments of England and the United States as to the system of international law which both are to recognize in future as established throughout the continents of Americ and the waters of the Pacific and the Atlantic. This is, however, a wide subject, the consideration of which must be postponed till a further opportunity. For the present, the general feeling of the country will, we are confident, be one of great satisfaction that our friendly relations with our kinsmen across the Atlantie are not likely to be disturbed upon grounds so peurile as the dismissal of an incompetent diplomatist, or the claim of a shadowy protectorate.

There is something new in the Episcopa pulpit. It is the first instance we have ever heard of an Episcopal clergyman carrying politics into the sacred desk. He richly deserves to have his gown stripped from his back, and to be sent back to penance and his prayers :

A SCENE AT THE CHURCH OF THE EPIPHANY-THE SLAVERY QUESTION IN THE PULPIT.—A large congregation assembled last night, at the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Epiphauy, attracted thither by an advertisement in the papers of Sat-urday that the recter, Rev. Dudley A. Tyng, would discourse on the subject of "Our Country's Troubles." The announcement created more sensation than usual from the fact that the Episcopal denomination, as a body, have always dis-countenanced the introduction of such topics into the pulpit as well as from the circumstances that the rector, since his connection with his parish, has generally preserved silence on questions having the most remote allusion to public

The minister having selected an appropriate text, briefly gave his reasons for introduc subject into the pulpit, and then proceeded to denounce in an eloquent strain and straightforward manner the outrages in Kansas and at Washinton, the aggressions of slave power, the misera-ble truckling of the North to the South, the horrors of slave-breeding, and concluded by urging his congregation to exercise their rights as freemen at the ballot box, in staying the progress of the monster evil, and invoking aid for the suffer-ing emigrants in Kansas. The sermon was listened to with breathless attention and without inerruption until the speaker spoke of slave-breeding, rearing immortal souls (who were made for heaven) for bondage, when Dr. Casper Morris, formerly a church-warden, rose from his pew, and, as one of the original church wardens, entered his solemn protest against the desecration of the place and the day by such services. The preacher continued his discourse without noticing the interruption, and at the conclusion of his sermon respectfully suggested to the gentleman who had interposed his objections to point out the wrong which he had committed in using the Sabbath as the time and an Friedrich Publish the Sabbath as the time and an Episcoal pulpit as the place for the utterance of anti-slavery sen

Mr. Tyng suggested, too, that it would have been as well to have waited until he had con-cluded his remarks before interposing any obection to them. If he (Mr. T.) was wrong, he was open to correction, but he would as a minister of Jesus Christ express his views of the great exciting topic of the day. Mr. Tying was perexciting topic of the day. Mr. Tying was perfectly calm throughout the unusual scene, and he appeared to be perfectly unmoved during the decided sensation incident to the interruption of Dr. Morris. We should state that at the commencement of the remarks of Mr. Tying several members of the congruencian left the church members of the congregation left the church.

After the sermon was finished, the members of the congregation gathered in knots to discuss the unnsual event, while many of them congratulated the minister upon the decided stand he had taken. We understand that the matter will re-unnsual event, while many of them congratulated the minister upon the decided stand he had done to the tune of "hark from the toombs a doleful sound." In short, it was a speech that greatly mortified his brothers; at least we witnessed that from one-third to one-half the order present left before he was through his speech, and many of them expressed their dissatisfaction at his effort. The Democrats and old line Whigs present were well pleased, and wished for more speeches of the same sort. It was intended he should have been answered, but when he made should have been answered, but when he made his speech, the Democrats and Whigs thought it best to have no reply, as the order were badly disappointed.

More Bolting.

Hall, the Insurance agent who was proved in Court the other day to have been in the New York Penitentiary for three years, we are informed is a member of Falls City Council. He bolted from Louisville very fast, but he is no doubt still a Know-Nothing.

The Tables Turned-Singular Developement. Some very curious facts relative to the character and antecedents of one of our citizens were developed during the trial of a case before the Criminal Court on Tuesday evening. Hall, an insurance agent over Hogan & Escott's, had procured an indictment for felony against a well known gentleman doing business on Thirdstreet. Hall was necessarily the principal wit-ress, and had arrayed quite a vast amount of testimony against the accused. His evidence was about completed, and he appeared perfectly satisfied with his success, when the lawyer for the defence asked Hall where he had spent the year 1843. Hall responded that he did not remember. The lawyer then repeated the question as to 1844 and 1845, and received the same response. Just then the name of another witness was called, and as Hall heard the name and saw him approach; he darted from the court-house, made long and rapid strides towards Davis & Bacon's stable, where he hired a horse and drove rapidly to New Albany.

No wonder that he left in such hot haste. The witness proved, by his own personal know-ledge and records, that Hall was convicted in New York of horse-stealing, and sent to the State prison at Auburn for three years. There breaking.

Since Hall's residence in this city, he has laid claims to excessive virtue, and is, we believe, connected with the Second Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Hall's residence was burned down a few nights since, under mysterious circumstances, and it is now generallly believed that he himself was the incendiary, for the purpose of getting the in-UST received from Havana, 70,000 fine Cigars, consisting of the choicest brands as follows: Londres, El Solo, Conchas, Ullindrados, Uzzadoes and Princess brand.

As a corollary to this event the Moniteur of this morning announces that a project for a Senatus Consultus creating a Regency has been pre-sented to the Senate and that that body is now engaged in its consideration. In other words the Emperor has wisely determined to cut off the Jerome branch of the Bonaparte family from the Regency, as well as the succession, and has presented a project to the Senate which declares that, in case of his death during the minority of the young prince just baptized, the Empress Eugenie, his mother, shall be declared Regent of

By a coincidence not difficult to penetrate, the Constitutionnel, semi-official journal, contained yesterday morning, a long leader eulogistic of the women who have served France in the ca-pacity of regents, and declaring that their reigns were more fortunate and more respected than those of the male regents. This then is another of those popullar moves which Louis Napoleon knows so well how to make; for the regency of the Empress Engenie, loved as she is by the people who make revolutions, is the only regency that could save the crown to his dynasty. I do not say that this regency would save it, but that it would be more likely to, a hundred times over, than the regency of Jerome Bonaparte or of his son the Prince Napoleon.

THIRTY-FOURTH CONGRESS-FIRST SESSION

Wednesday's Proceedings Concluded.
WASHI NGTON, July 9, SENATE.—Mr. Johnson, from the Committee or Printing, reported in favor of a motion to print twenty thousand extra copies of the Kansas bill as passed by the Senate, but adversely to the tae yeas and navs therefor.

Trumbull thought if the Senate were going to send this forth as an electioneering document, action taken on the various amendments ought to be with it, so as to present a fair view of the Mr. Weller wished to report, concurred in.

The positions held by a majority of the Senate had been very much misrepresented, and they desired that the public mind should be set right. desired that the public mind should be set right.

He regarded the bill as intended to carry on the

The people so under-stand it; and why was not this bill brought in at the early part of the part of the session, be-fore Kansas was conquered? Since that time Kansas has been twice or thrice invaded, houses ourned, cities sacked, and some Free State men murdered, while others were driven out of the Territory, and those on their way thither were arrested, disarmed, and sent back to their homes in the face of facts produced by the Kansas in restigating committee. The proposition now brought forward takes positions precisely con-trary to those assumed six months ago—holding out the appearance of fairness and justice, but "keeping the word of promise to the ear and breaking it to the hope."

Mr. Wade took similar ground to that of Wilson and was willing to scatter the bill broadcast over the country, for it showed that the doctrine of popular sovereignty was renounced and entirely given up by the Democratic party The bill also virtually admitted that the territorial legislation was a fraud, for it legislated right over their heads, and annulled many of its acts.

Mr. Douglas vindicated the Senat; bill, and said that the Republicans did not want peace until after the election, for it was all gammon for political effect. Their capital for the coming Presidential election was blood, and an angel com heaven could not frame a bill to settle the ansas difficulties with which the Black Republicans would be satisfied previous to the Presi-dential election. [Applause from the gallery. The chair called the house to order. The bill was fair, just, and equitable. They could not deny it; yet they were not satisfied with it. Mr. Clingham said this matter had produced great excitement in the country. He had not been here many years, and yet had seen much stronger cases than this of fights when the House was in session. He recapitulated those personal rencontres, remarking that the House did not take action on any of them. His object was to show the occurrence now under consideration was sought to be magnified with a view to make poup a great excitement. There was nothing to justify it. He thought the argument of the minority of the committee took the proper ground, and contended no breach of privilege had been and contended no breach of privilege had been committed by Brooks. Thursday's Proceedings.

The Senate made sundry amendments to the already given all the money he could spare for books, provisions and agricultural implements for Kansas, and he felt he was now called upon Indian appropriation bill. The bill passed.

Mr. Mason, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported a bill to amend the act of last session to remode the diplomatic and consular system, which was made the special order for Monday next. The principal changes proposed are, making the salary of the minister to who was France the same as England, $17,500, raising the Austrian full mission to $12,000, and the salary of the minister to the Schdwich Islands to $6,000. The ministers to France and England are each allowed a clerk at a salary of

The bill to smend the act to promote efficiency in the navy was called. Several amendments were made, among which was one striking out the section for review grade Admiral.

The House took up the bills and resolution asking that a select committee be appointed to inquire into the subject of the alleged frauds in contracting for the public buildings. Mr. Elliott remarked that the resolutions charged the officers of the Treasury with improper conduct. He was authorized to say that Secretary Guthrie will not shrink from an investigation which, doubtless, would turn out slan-der and political falsehood.

Mr. Ball replied there was no insinuation in the resolution against Mr. Guthrie. The pream-ble thereto embodies an affidavit reflecting on ertain officers, and this is the basis of the proposed inquiry. After further debate, the resolution passed. Messrs. Ball, Kennett, Burnett, King and Cadwallader were appointed the committee. The consideration of the report of the Con nittee relative to Brooks' assault on Sumner was resumed.

Mr. Commins, of Mass., said he had heard no terms of condemnation of the assault which did injustice to the perpetrator. In contemplating the report of the committee and the issue involved all political and personal feelings sank into in significance. He asked not sympathy for Mr. Summer, nor a vindication of Massachusetts, but implored every member who loved peace, quiet, and order to join as one man, and roll be tide of ruffian violence which was becoming prominent, prevalent, and arrogant. The murder-ous blow which felled Mr. Sumner fell not on Massachusetts more than any other State. The slave power having failed to sustain itself in inellectual conflict, resorted to brute force, and with a bludgeon beat freedom over the head .-The slave power has trampled the constitution in the dust. There is very little more for the gen tleman from Georgia (Mr. Cobb) to do than If Buchanan had tried the experiment, he would draw marginal black lines around it, -write the word expunge across its face. In specking Mr Cummins alluded to the mission of South Caro lina, when Sam'l. Hoar, Aiken, interrupted him, what may have occurred in South Carolina had nothing to do with the issue pending. Mr. Houston likewise interposed, saying the remarks of Mr. Cummins were irrelevant. Mr. Giddings earnestly called him to order. The Speaker defined the rights of the member ot to interrupt Mr. Cummius. Mr. Letcher did not insist on his point of or-Mr. Cummins resumed expressing his amaze ment at the stern stolidity of the Senate concern-ng their privileges and dignity. at which a deady blow was aimed. In conclusion, he referred n commendation to the remark of Jas. Watson Webb, that the cutrage merited death on the spot, to be administered by any one present. Could the friends of Mr. Brooks object to his exoulsion from the House? Mr. Cobb, of Ga., said he had hoped no disposition would have been evinced to avoid the issue as furnished by that assault. It was made in consequence of Mr. Sumner's anti-slavery speech or sentiments and was not founded on truth nor evidence. Let the question be met fair-ly. The testimony showed the assault was made in consequence of a personal insult offered to a moderate friend and Kinsman of of Mr. Brooks and indigantly cast upon the State which Mr. Brooks in part represented, and so stated by Mr. Sumner as the reason given by Mr. Brooks at the time the assault was made. As to drawing black lines around the Constitution, as recommended by Mr. Cummins, he who was prepared for the dam-nable deed might do it. It was no part of his duty and the invitation met no respguse in his

Cummins said he alluded to the slave power. Mr. Cobb continuing, remarked that he raised his voice in behalf of the Constitution, planted himself on its provisions, and called on the genthemen to enforce them. He then argued that this was not such a question as justified the jurisdiction of the House. The Constitution protected the members only so far as was necessary to legislative purposes—beyon it his they were on a level, their humblest consituents, and re-sponsible for libels they might utter. With regard to Edmundson and Keitt, whom the ma jority of the Committee proposed to censure, they were guilty of no disorderly behavior within the province of the House to punish. Neither was principal nor accessory to the assault, but because they took no steps to prevent the perpetration of the act or inform Mr. Sumner of his danger, the Committee say their neglect is reprehensible, thus in effect proposing to punish the man who, receiving a confidential communication, fails to become a public informer. Mr. Pennington remarked-If Mr. Orr yesterday insinuated what was not broadly asserted, that the object was to make political capital, it was utterly unfounded—in fact, so far as he was concerned, and therefore he gave it a flat denial. He argued in support of the principles advanced by the report of the Committee, saying he imputed to Mr. Brooks no murderous purpose, but in the eye of the law the weapon used was a mur-derous one, and wielded in a murderous manner. Mr. Foster said he had no personal acquain-tance with either Sumner or Brooks, and hence the could argue the subject dispassionately. He contended it was clear to him as seen in Heaven The House, under the Constitution, had no jurisdiction in the premises. He condemned the inflamatory appeals resorted to in this case.

A committee on resolutions was appointed and will report on the re-assembling of the convention

In the Herbert murder case, which was formally opened this morning, testimony for prosecu-tion closed on adjournment. Fair flay is a jewel. The design of the misrepresentation is to operate on the Presidential election. Whoever heard before of a personal difficulty being magnified to such an extent as this has been.
One alluded to a gentleman voting to-day to print a hundred thousand copies of the report on the Sumner assault as an electioneering document.

The Kansas convention met yesterday, exGovernor Reeder presiding. The object of the meeting being to secure unity and efficiency of action throughout the country in behalf of freedom and Kanses. A committee on resolutions was appointed. Most of the session was consumed in addresses on the wrongs of Kansas.
A committee of thirteen were appointed to reonly thousand extra copies of the Kansas bill of the Senate, but adversely to the senate, but adversely to the standard as an electioneering document, and the Senate were appointed to report a plan to aid Kansas. and am opposed to it.

Mr. Orr—If the gentleman is not, his public position has been much misunderstood throughout the country. It is part of a system to inflame the public mind, and if the gentleman from Pennsylvania did not vote for the proposition, he cast a vote the effect of which was to injure which should not fall short of $100,000 each month. Recommending emigrants to take the route through Iowa, urging Congress to establish daily mail routes from Topeka to Iowa City and sing the administration with being instigators and upholders of the outrages in that Territory.

Other resolutions less ultra offered by Reeder and others werr adopted. Gov. Reeder spoke warmly in favor of the admission of Kansas under the Topeka Constitu-tion and denounced the Senate bill. Gov. Reeder made a long speech on the wrongs of Kansas and her right to be admitted into the Union under the Topeka constitution; at the close of which he spoke of Gerrett Smith's resolutions as too Mr. Smith defended them as only recommending to send an armed force into Kansas to resist the armed force already there. He believed the time for resistance had already arrived. He had to contribute means to arm men to send them Mr. Smith continued at some length in the same strain, and was replied to by Gov. Reeder, who was in favor of waiting a while longer, not because Kansas had not received wrongs enough, but because he thought it better to wait until an effective blow could be struck. If it had fallen to him to use the power of the Govern-ment he would not have waited, but the oppressers of Kansas would have long ere this be rted into heaps of dead men on the fields of dissouri; he was, therefore, willing to wait until hey had power. He would have thus asked, the ground that they will exhaust all peaceful remedies; that being doze, they will resist to death, and pile the soil with the dead bodies of Gerrit Smith suggested that if this chain of reasoning be correct, the Convention should sit with closed doors, as the South could not but know that something was to be done, when resotions passed for raising $100,000 per month. Philadelphia Exchange, corroborative of the efficacy of Withams's Anti-Dyspeptic Elixir.

Doctor James Williams:—For several years past, I have been liable to attacks of Dyspepsia; but never have I been more distressingly afflicted with its symptoms, than within the last few weeks. Indigestion, nervous irritability, despondency, a sense of weigat in the stomach, and severe pains in the left side, rendering me, for the time being, truly wretched. Fortunately, I was recommended by a friend to try your Elixir. I did so, and in less than two weeks, indigestion ceased; pain and nervous depression left me, and appetite, with mental and bodily health, were fully restored. To me the cure seemed almost miraculous, and my object in writing to you us—a hope that other persons suffering the miseries of Dyspepsia will avail themselves of your efficient remedy.
